Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,375

The death of President Elmer H. Capen of Tufts College removes one of those few men who have been at the head of their institution for thirty years or more. President Eliot of Harvard has a longer record of service, as has President Buckingham of the University of Vermont.

Mayor Barclay's jollification meeting last evening was of the open, frank nature. That is, everyone said what he thought. That's unusual. Generally on such occasions the speakers say what they think they ought to say, but which they really don't think at all. It was a "heart to heart" talk.

According to the figures of the state insurance commissioners there were thirty fires in the city of Barre last year, with a loss of $32,265. The total loss accredited to the entire state, is less than a million dollars, as the commissioners find that in 1,055 fires the damage was $741,069, an average loss of $693. Metropolitan papers can now crack a joke that Vermont is too green to burn.

CUTTING DOWN CITY EXPENSES.

The action of the city council Tuesday evening in consolidating the offices of city engineer and superintendent of the water department is the result of a long-standing discussion. For a considerable time the feasibility of the idea has been considered pro and con, with the knowledge that the expense of administration of municipal affairs has been heavy, and with the conviction that there should be a curtailment wherever possible. The two departments which are now united are closely allied and naturally the talk of consolidation turned in that direction, with the result that the two will for a year at least be conducted under one head.

It is, of course in the nature of an experiment, to determine whether the business of the two departments can be conducted by one man satisfactorily. The city cannot afford to impair the efficiency of either branch and if it should be found that one man is not capable of performing the duties then a return to the old system will be necessary. But the consensus of opinion is that the city engineer can take on the duties of the other office, without impairment to his own, or to the water department. The Times has held to this latter view for some time and is pleased to see the experiment tried.

SUPT. OAKES' RESIGNATION.

Three months ago the legislative committee which investigated the state prison at Windsor reported "That the continuance in office of Superintendent of State Prison E. W. Oakes is detrimental both to the state and the prison, and the discipline thereof." The report was presented to the legislature and that was apparently the last of it. Supt. Oakes has continued to hold his position to now when he steps down and out. Anyone would have thought that after the committee reported as they did, that his continuance in office was "detrimental," the official would have tendered his resignation at once. It was what everyone was expecting. But no resignation was forthcoming so far as the public knew, and the public judged the superintendent as a man possessed of the impervious skin of a pachyderm. But it developed that the public did Supt. Oakes an injustice. He did resign a short time after the report of the special committee but he was not allowed to have his way by the directors of the institution. The resignation was not accepted by the governing board.

Since that time Supt. Oakes has been flailed unmercifully. Now that the announcement has become public perhaps the directors of the institution will have the kindness to allow him to resign. What bearing the resignation will have on the investigation which is about to be made at the state prison is problematical. But it speaks well for Mr. Oakes that he has asked for an opportunity to appear before the special committee when the proper time comes. He undoubtedly will be given a chance.

ALIVE WITH BOWLERS.

Eurekas Defeated Hot Airs; Mail Carriers Defeated by the Clerks.

Alexander's bowling alleys were full of bowlers last evening, the Eurekas and the Hot Airs playing a double header and the mail clerks and clerks teams blowing off the third of their series of games. The Eurekas defeated the Hot Airs in the first game two out of three strings and in the game total by 264 pins. Walsh of the Eurekas was the high man of the evening, having a single of 242 and a three-string total of 576.

The clerks won their first game, defeating the letter distributors two out of three strings, the latter team winning the last string by only two pins. The clerks were 77 pins ahead in the total for the game. Houghton of the mail clerks was high man, with a three-string total of 523.

DAIRYMAIDS WON.

Defeated the Reubens at Basket Ball Last Evening.

Montpelier, March 23.—The basket ball season in this city closed last evening with a burlesque game at the Y. M. C. A. between teams from the association and Montpelier Seminary, fantastically garbed and designated as the Reubens of Lanesboro and the Dairymaids of Solom. The latter won by a score of 25 to 20. Currie Nation with her hatchet acted as umpire, and Chief Doolley as referee. A hallooing band furnished discord between the halves.

The game scheduled to be played between teams from Company H of this city and Company F of Northfield, was cancelled.

STOPPED BY DARKNESS.

Two Montpelier Boys Started to Run Away, But Gave It Up.

Two small boys named William Butler and Edgar Harlow, ages from 10 to 12 years, who ran away from their homes in Montpelier, arrived home Tuesday afternoon with feet wet, and tired out. They decided some days ago it was a hard thing to go to school and that there was no chance for a small boy anyway. On Monday noon they left home to seek their own fortunes in the world. The Butler boy is being brought up by Frank Duplessis, Edgar Harlow is a son of William Harlow, a candy maker.

As they left their homes about school time their absence was not noticed until late in the evening. They did not return Monday night. The boys made up their minds to go to Burlington and got three miles below Middlesex when it began to grow dark. They retraced their steps and stopped at the home of M. J. Herbert, where they asked to stay during the night. The boys were given their supper, put to bed and then Mr. Herbert called up the police station at Montpelier and found they had run away.

Commissioners in Morristown.

The board is made up the same as the old one with the exception of C. F. Smith, who takes the place of W. F. Churchill. Mr. Smith is considered to be the "no license" member of the board.
